Call for Papers

Iran University of Science and Technology (IUST) and the Computer Society of Iran (CSI) are jointly organizing the 25th International Computer Conference (CSICC 2020) to be held on January 1-2, 2020 in Tehran, Iran. IUST was founded in 1929 as the first Iranian institution for training engineers and currently is known as the leading technical university for its strong collaborations with industry. It is our honor to host researchers, scientists, engineers, and practitioners in the CSICC 2020 to exchange their latest research results and insights, and identify new challenges and opportunities in various fields of computer science and engineering. The ever-increasing demands for enhanced mobile broadband with high data rates, the new traffic types, and emerging data services are the pressing factors for the advent of 5th generation (5G) and beyond technologies. The theme of CSICC 2020 is “5G Networks and Beyond: Enabling Technologies and Applications”. To this end, we do encourage researchers in the field of 5G network technologies and applications to submit their manuscripts to CSICC 2020. Submissions of original manuscripts in other fields of computer science and engineering are also most welcomed.
